Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 12 January 2005.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

3. Claims 1-9 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP 8-1353 and further in view of Aoyama et al (US 6,008,563).

JP '353 disclose an electrode comprising a main body (6), and end cover (10), a guide sleeve (12) of insulation material received in the main body and having a part receiving hole communicating with the through hole in the end cover, wherein the guide sleeve has a wherein said guide sleeve has a throughgoing hole consisting of a major diameter section and a minor diameter section, a container internally holding a magnet is slidably received in the major diameter section, a guide pin of iron is slidably received in the minor diameter section, the end of said container with the magnet exposed being joined to said guide pin, a compression coil spring acts on the other end of said container, said minor diameter section being used as said receiving hole, wherein a magnet (15) is inserted in the guide sleeve, wherein the detection current for parts detection flows through at least the magnet, end cover, and main body. The electric wire (23) is connected to a washer (21) receiving end of the compression coil (22).

JP '1353 fails to teach cooling air passage or cooling water in the guide sleeve.

However, Aoyama et al disclose a cooling air passage (22) to cool the guide sleeve for the purpose of cooling the welding heat.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to use cooling air or water, since both are known in the casting art as cooling means taught by Aoyama et al, in JP '353, in order to cool the electrode from the welding heat.

Inquiry

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Len Tran whose telephone number is (571) 272-1184. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F, 8:30 - 5.
